

Space Boy

Book I - Lost In Space

Intro

9-year-old Alex helen has always dreamed of launching into space. He never wanted to be an astronaut, but always wanted to explore the deep depths of space. His parents didn't want him to, though. Nevertheless, he had always snuck out, when he could, to make sense of a constellation, or just imagine a cool space adventure. His parents never allowed him to watch a launch. One day, all that changed

Chapter 1-the launch

It was a fine summer day. Alex wished he could've seen the spectacular launch into space, instead, he was stuck inside doing chores, while the others (his brother and sisters) were watching their favorite shows. "Great", thought Alex. He could've seen it. He could've been enjoying himself. He could've been free. He wasn't. "What a nice summer", he thought. All he wanted was a normal one.

Little did he know this one is not gonna be normal.

The next morning, he woke up dreading the day. He was doing his chores (as usual) then, he got distracted. He had found a box, a space-designed one. He never had noticed it, but neither has his siblings. Then, he did something that changed his life. He touched it. Now, you might think that touching it would do nothing, but no. The world started spinning, and before he knew it, he was in the new spaceship that NASA was preparing.

“Oh no!” Alex thought. Sure, he loved space, but he was not ready for a full on space adventure. “I need stuff!”, he said in his mind. But just as he said it, he remembered the heavy packed backpack that had: his computer, a bunch of science kits filled with different stuff surrounding his computer, his favorite stuffed animals, food, and clothes. “Wait!” Yelled Alex. but the spaceship had already been blasting off into space.

Chapter 2-the orbit

He was blasting. Blasting away from earth. Blasting away from the only home he knew...yet, this was his dream, to explore space.

“Wait!” he kept on saying. No one heard him. Dang.

“We are about to approach the sun. please buckle up. Thank you click” said a voice.

The sun?!?!?!?! Alex thought “I needed to find a seat”. So he went searching...and finally found one. Yesssssssssssss. He was about to buckle up when...foom! He was blasted out of the spaceship!

“Waah!” Alex yelled, which he found odd. He could breathe in space?! Weird...foom! “Woah!” he said (again) as he was being whisked away. He had been pulled into the spaceship. Then, everything was black.

He woke up an hour later in a metal bar prison. “Huh?” Alex mumbled. He was in a separate cell from the only other person in the U.F.O. Everyone else was an alien.

“What the-?” Alex mumbled softly.

“I know, right? That’s what I thought when I was here.” said the boy in the spaceship. His voice was oddly familiar...

“who are you?” Alex asked the boy in the other cell, keen that the aliens wouldn’t hear me.

“My name is Max. Max helen.”

“Max what?!?” Alex asked.

“Max helen.” replied Max.

“That’s MY last name!!!!” Alex exclaimed.

Whoops. The aliens heard him. The aliens (I can't say for sure) were cursing.

"We need to get out of here!" Alex yelled.

"Tell me something I don't know!" he yelled back.

KABOOM!! There was a huge explosion. Almost everything on the ship was blown up. Alex was thrown back. So was Max. The aliens, well, let's just say they were the most angriest creatures in the universe, were flying through the space too. Alex later would find out it was Max who touched a secret self destruct button to blow up the entire thing. They were floating in space again. Orbiting...

Chapter 3-planet g4-100

Alex woke up. He was floating in space. Breathing. Still breathing in space. He wondered why...Max was beside him. They were in front of a planet that he (or..nobody) had ever seen.

"What should we do?" Alex asked Max feebly.

"Dunno. Might as well get shelter...", answered max.

They tried to move to the planet. It was no use. "Damn." Alex said. "This is gonna be hard."

One hour later...

“Still haven’t come up with an idea!” said Max after an hour of thinking. “Hmmmmm...”

“can we find some pieces of space junk to build a ship?” Alex said.

“That might work...” They worked on making a spaceship for hours. Finally, They had finished it.

“What time is it?” asked Max. “Well, it won’t matter, will it?”

When the spaceship was finally done, they dived in and buckled ourselves. “Not too bad,” Alex chuckled. They were preparing for the launch. 3...2...1 BLAST OFF! They were zooming to planet. To the unknown...BOOM! They landed on the unknown planet.

Alex woke up. Max was still unconscious. He didn’t know where they were. He didn’t know anything. Just then He felt something. Something lept on his nerves and won’t let go. He didn’t exactly know what it was, but he should hide. Max had just woken up.

“We NEED to get out of here.” Alex told him.

“I know.” responded Max. They ran right behind the most disgusting bush just in time. Two creatures (aliens) were talking together. They were the same type of aliens that they saw on the U.F.O. Just then, Alex saw something. A sign. “Look.” Whispered Alex. It read “welcome to planet g4-100.”

Chapter 4-the prison

Alex and Max were gaping. Gaping at the sign that they had read.

“Planet g4-100?” asked Max, feebly.

“Dunno,” Alex said, half aware of what was happening. “This is not in the solar system..” Alex said.

There was a gurgling noise from behind. The Aliens had spotted them. (uh oh...) they were immediately caught. they were forced into a cell. Into the darkness...

Moments later...

“Where are we?” Asked max.

“Dunno” Said alex “don’t ask me...”.

There was a BOOM and a third person was shoved in. the door slammed shut and a girl fell into a cell. She fell unconscious, and it took a little while for her to wake up. They didn’t dare talk when she did though. She opened her mouth, about to say something. Alex shook his head. But Max gave a half head shake half you-can-talk look.

Alex sighed. It was stressful enough to be stuck, but to have his lost brother lovesick with a stranger is another thing.

They spent the next 5 hours in silence, then Max opened his mouth, but quickly closed it.

After a while, Alex heard a yell of anger and a blast. There had been many yells, but not a blast. Everyone jumped. The door was blasted open. So were the cells of they're prison. Max, Alex and the girl ran out the door before the alien could shout another curse word. They dashed out of the prison room.

As they ran, Alex asked "what's your name?"

"Emily" answered Emily.

They ran All the way to the main area, where we were met by a million alien guards.

"We... have to go" Said max. They ran as the aliens were hot on their trail.

"Over there!" Yelled emily. She was pointing to a huge pile of debris.

They all dived behind it as the aliens ran past them.

"We're safe." sighed Max.

“OH, DON’T THINK YOU’RE SAFE SO EASILY” said a monstrous/robotic voice. We turned around.

Chapter 5-the escape

They were cornered. No way to escape from the alien robotic lord, except... Then, it happened. Alex’s hands glowed a bright galaxy blue BOOM the blast had the force of a blackhole. They were all blasted backwards into the unknown once more.

They woke up. No one was there except them.

“Can you breath in space?” Alex asked Emily.

“Well, how do you think I got here?” replied Emily.

Max laughed.

To be continued...